DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 1/12/2007 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-5, 9-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

1. Claim 1 line 4 recites the term "market business information" without any specificity. A computer does not obtain this information. Therefore, (1) it is subject to human judgment and involvement (2) without defining the specifics of the market business information it is indefinite and vague.

2. Claim 1 recites "processing said filtered market business information by a subscoring process", this processing step merely recites which process (or algorithm) processes the filtered information without defining the result of the processing step and how the subscore relate to interlinked area and how subscore is done, this processing step is vague.

3. Claim 1 recites "processing the results of said subscore ..." is not clear how scoring is done using subscore process, this step is vague.

Applicant should amend the claim to positively recite the limitations and clearly defined the process(es) for achieving intended result without ambiguity and infiniteness.

Claims 14 and 15 are system and product claims for claim 1, therefore they are rejected with same rational as claim 1.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

2. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claim1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because: The claimed invention lacks patentable utility. The claim recites the term "market business information" without any specificity and stating why this information is useful, it may be useful to one individual not to another. Processing this information cannot produce a concrete (i.e. predictable, consistently repetitive) results. In other words the claimed invention fails to recite a concrete result. The claim fails to specify what happens as a result of the processing steps.

There is no tangible result because there is no recitation of the real world use of the score even if recited as a positive limitation.

Applicant should amend the claim and properly address the concreteness and tangibility of the claim. The amended claim should be tangible, concrete, useful and repeatable.

Claim Objections

3. Claim 1 is objected to because of the following informalities: Applicant has used "obtained" and "gathered" interchangeably. Appropriate correction is required and use a consistent terminology.

Conclusion

Claims 1-5, 9-15 are rejected under USC 101 and USC 112. Claims are allowable if applicant resolves issues raised by USC 101 and USC 112.
